Luxembourg
2 December 2005

Invitation

It is my honour to invite

Under the initiative of PROFIL I will host an international platform on European scale for presenting Luxembourg's established role as premier financial centre: The conference Luxembourg Financial Forum 2005 will establish itself as a first-class stage for an ongoing discussion on core financial and economic issues of international importance. This year's forum will debate and provide insight into the complex question of prospective pension systems and the extensive problem of the agenda of the Eurozone Stability and Growth Pact.

This international conference - planned as an annual international finance event - will bring together delegates from governments and ministries, financiers, insurers, legal and consulting firms, national and multinational organisations and investors from business and private sector in a highly productive environment for fruitful discussions and intensive networking.

I look forward to welcoming you to the Luxembourg Financial Forum 2005.

Initiator

Intensifying promotion of the Luxembourg financial centre through structured and professional action - that is the declared goal of the Luxembourg Financial Industry Federation that has been set up under the name of PROFIL by the professional associations who play an active role in the financial centre.

The Federation brings together representatives of the banks, insurance companies, investment funds, wealth managers, chartered accountants, auditors, stock exchange and ancillary activities. It seeks to promote a coherent and clear image of Luxembourg as a prestigious international financial centre.

While continuing to give priority to the defence of the interests of their associations and institutions, the members of PROFIL combine their efforts for the presentation to public opinion of the many facets of the Luxembourg financial centre which, through the farsightedness of its political leaders and the innovative spirit of its operators, has acquired a prominent position worldwide.
